

Alberta auto license plates will be available one month earlier this year, it is announced by the provincial secretary's department. There is no change in the license year. Object of the early issue is to enable motorists to obtain gasoline under the rationing system which becomes operative April 1. Without a license, no gasoline will be obtainable.

Dr. Tripp, of Fernie, Addressed Lions Club

Spoke on War And Its Aftermath: Stalin Described As a Genius.

An interesting address was delivered by Dr. Tripp, of Fernie, to members of the Lions club on Monday evening. He is a member of the Fernie Rotary and an able speaker. He chose for his subject, "After The War . . . What?"

Russia, he said, had proved to be the biggest surprise of the war. A united people had stood up to the invader and was now successfully pushing him back. British and American aid in planes, guns and tanks had aided greatly in boosting the morale of the people in the knowledge that two of the world's greatest democracies were aiding them.

In the speaker's opinion Kerenki was the man that made Russia. Lenin, trained by Germany, and Trotsky, he considered German satellites. Stalin, he considered a genius. History had proved Stalin's purge of pro-German officers in the Russian army to be necessary. His replacing them with young pro-Russian officers has resulted in the splendid fight at present being fought by the Russian people. He was also responsible for building up among the people a great spirit of patriotism. Hitler he blamed for spreading the fear of communism throughout the world. It was Dr. Tripp's firm conviction that Russia after the war would settle back into a peace loving nation.

The United States he blamed for much of the present world's strife. Had the States taken membership in the League of Nations instead of dropping out of world affairs after the Treaty of Versailles, it is very probable that the totalitarian powers would not have been given the freedom they enjoyed to attack and over run the small countries.

The peace treaty which will be signed after this war must have a solid basis to work on and be changed through the years to meet changing conditions. He thought that an international police force would be created to police the conquered countries and to report to the League of Nations, or whichever body is set up to study and direct international affairs, the industrial progress of these countries.

Dr. Tripp advocated trading with Germany, Italy and Japan after the war in goods which Canada could not grow or produce economically. A believer of free trade he blamed the late depression, which spread over the world, the result of high tariffs built up by governments of various countries.

Air Observer Replaces Wooden Soldier

$76.66 Collected at Bank for Cigarette Fund; Public Giving Good Support.

The Cigarette Fund's wooden soldier has been granted a furlough and during his absence his duties will be taken care of by an air observer of the R.C.A.F. The fund was donated to the fund committee by J. M. Chalmers, jeweler, and saw duty for the first time last pay-day when he collected $76.66, the second highest collection made since the fund was organized.

The public are generously supporting the fund. More local men have gone overseas recently adding to the cost of cigarettes being sent. Each man gets 300 cigarettes monthly.

Acknowledgment cards were received this week from soldiers overseas who had received cigarettes: Geo. Burtnik, Capt. J. T. Dunbar, Gnr. R. Jenkins, Opl. M. Smith, Sgt. Bert Moray, Spr. J. Raymond, Frenchy Marconi, Pte. Geo. Evans, Sgt. Celli, Spr. Francis Mason.

Extracts from their letters and cards reveal that the boys in the Calgary Highlanders are in winter headquarters along the English channel, Malcolm Smith was about to leave for fourteen days' furlough in Scotland, and that Geo. Burtnik had his smokes even if he did not have turkey at Christmas.

A wire from Manila via Chicago has been received by Mrs. C. Maurer from her son, Charles, stating he was safe and feeling fine. The wire was received two days before Christmas.

BRIGADIER L. URSAKI TO VISIT COLEMAN

Brigadier L. Ursaki, divisional leader of the Salvation Army in Alberta, is scheduled to visit Coleman on Friday, January 16.

Following an official inspection in the afternoon, he will conduct a night meeting in the Salvation Army hall at 8 o'clock.

Among his responsibilities is the ever expanding war work of the Salvation Army Red Shield and he will give some insight into this phase of endeavor with the enlisted men.

Brigadier Ursaki has visited the Pass on several occasions and has gained many friends. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the "Army," Friday night at 8.

School Staff Give Presentation to John McDonald

Presented With Writing Case; Had Been on Staff Eleven Years; Now With R.C.A.F.

On Friday evening, January 9, the staff of Coleman schools met in Coleman high school in honor of Mr. John McDonald, who has left the high school staff for the R.C.A.F.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Principal David Hoyle, vice-principal Horace Allen acted as chairman. Following a tasty supper served by Miss Megan Jones, Mr. Allen gave a short address in which he spoke of Mr. McDonald's eleven years on the staff and of his fine spirit of co-operation and friendliness. After expressing the regret of the teachers at Mr. McDonald's departure, the chairman presented him with a leather writing case on behalf of his associates, stating that this and the pen and pencil set presented by the student body earlier in the day left no doubt of the desire to have Mr. McDonald keep in touch with his friends in Coleman.

Mr. McDonald found it difficult to say good-bye but expressed his and over the years those assembled for the token of their good wishes for his success.

Mrs. McDonald and Mr. J. O. C. McDonald were also present. Pilot Officer McDonald will report at Trenton, Ont. on January 17.

Calgary Royals Hockey Club Coming Here at Week-End

Will Play Two-Game Series; Coached By Dave Duchak; Locals in Good Condition.

Calgary Royals, smart Calgary junior hockey club, will appear here on Saturday and Sunday in a two-game series with the Miners. Saturday's game will face-off at 8:30. Time of Sunday's game will not be determined till Saturday evening when Calgary team arrives, but will probably be 3:30 p.m.

The Calgary club has built up quite a good reputation. They beat a Drumheller star's team and at Camrose they defeated Camrose Intermediates in their own backyard. The team is coached by Dave Duchak, well known hockey star.

Jimmy Joyce has his team in fine condition and is out to win both games. Jimmy is going to try and get as far as possible in the provincial playoffs this spring, and a few games with smart aggressive clubs are needed to improve teamwork.

The local club has promised a $150 guarantee to the visitors and hope that the public will get behind them in its effort to bring good hockey to Coleman.

$600 Million Victory Loan in February

Local Committee Not Yet Organized; Coleman Raised $110,000 Last Year.

Finance Minister Isley made announcement this week that on February 16 a campaign will be started to raise $600,000,000 for Canada's victory war loan. Ken. Ringland, divisional organizer, was in town during the week laying the groundwork for organizing Coleman committee. Last year Coleman was given a quota of $53,000 and raised $110,000.

Aggressiveness is the key to success in all ventures of this nature and soon a large volume of advertising will be started in newspapers, magazines, radio, theatres and other media in order to educate the public to the vital need of giving this campaign their full-hearted support.

Last year, H. C. McBurney, unit organizer, had an aggressive canvassing committee supporting him and the $110,000 tells its own story. Whoever may be placed in charge of this campaign will have the experience of last year's campaign to guide and help him. E. J. Yorath, provincial publicity chairman, has already sent out circular letters to local organizations asking their support.

Sis. M. E. Cornett Heads Victoria Rebekah Lodge

Appointed To Office For Second Year; Sister Walker, D.D.P., Presided at Installation.

Installation of officers of Victoria Rebekah Lodge, No. 7, took place in the L.O.O.F. hall on January 6. Sister Walker, D.D.P., was assisted by her staff from Blairmore.

Sister Cornett was presented with her Past Noble Grand's jewel, by the district deputy. The following officers were then installed for 1942: P.N.G., M. Holstead; N.G., M. E. Cornett (re-elected); V.G., A. Nash; Recording Secretary, A. A. Burns; Financial Secretary, A. Vincent; Treasurer, R. M. Dunlop; Conductor, E. Cox; Warden, M. Antel; Chaplain, M. E. Higginbotham; R.S.N.G., E. Shields; L.S.N.G., L. Boulton; R.S., V.G., E. White; L.S.V.G., M. Yates; Pianist, D. Colgrove; I.G., F. Beart; O.G., N. Hope.

At the close of the installation the members and several guests from Pass lodges enjoyed a turkey supper. The prize for the evening, donated by Sister Colgrove, was won by Sister Shields.

ELKS TO LOSE THREE SENIOR OFFICERS

Coleman Elks have lost one and are about to lose two more of their senior officers. Last week Exalted Ruler Fred Emery left for Calgary, where he reported to military authorities. W. J. Burns, leading knight, has secured employment with P. Burns & Co., Calgary, and will move to the city with his family, and Doug Hartley, loyal knight, has been representative for Scott Fruit Co., expects to be transferred to northern Alberta.

Lance Corporal Percy Snow Grateful For Gifts Received

The following is a letter which is typical from many of the local boys now serving overseas and which expresses their appreciation of the gifts which the Legion, and Ladies' Auxiliary and through these organizations, the general public have sent them.

To Members and Officers of Canadian Legion:

Dear Friends: Received your greetings and take the opportunity to thank you all for your efforts on behalf of us fellows over here; realizing that all your work is simply in the cause of good fellowship and because many of you were in the same position in the last war, we cannot help but appreciate your generosity of time and work.

Up until now we have been more or less marking time. You old soldiers know how we like training, etc., but in the near future we expect to make ourselves known and the Canadian army has yet to take the back row in any event.

England has been good to us as a whole. It is a country populated by an invincible race. Last year's bombings prove that beyond a doubt. I for one hope I can measure up when our time comes. I think our boys will, don't you? I think often of the turkey with stuffing and the rest at home. When you are eating yours I know you will give us a thought.

In closing all I can say is thank you ladies and gentlemen, you have been very good to me and I am grateful. Yours sincerely, L.C. P. E. Snow.

Charlie Murphy also wrote acknowledging parcels received throughout the year. A Christmas card was received from Pte. F. Coccolone.

Bartenders Still Out; No Settlement In Sight

Held Series of Meetings At Week-End; Hotelkeepers Sitting Tight.

No settlement appears in sight between the hotelkeepers and the bar-tenders under its dispute enters its fourth week.

Last week the union met in conference with a sub-committee of the local U.M.W.A., who, according to report, promised them union aid. On Sunday evening the bar-tenders held a meeting in Coleman.

Mr. Enoch Williams was appointed to give the press official statements. Conditions remain the same at the local beer parlours, the hotelkeepers maintaining service to their patrons.

Air Cadets of Canada Summit Squadron

The Air Cadets got away to a good start last Friday evening in the Community hall. It was very pleasing to the officers in charge to note how interested all the cadets are in the instruction being given. We believe we have a squadron of boys who will, with careful training, make their parents and the town proud of them. We shall endeavour to give them the best possible course of training in all subjects contained in the Air Cadet manuals. There is still room for a few more senior cadets, ages 15 to 17. Apply at the hall on Friday evening. If there are any people in town who have headphones which they would like to donate we would appreciate it if they will leave them at the Journal office. We require 10 to 12 sets for wireless instruction. Also a few pairs of boxing gloves.

P.O. H. HOUGHTON, Officer Commanding.

Bill Naylor, R.C.A.F. is now stationed in New Brunswick.

District Elks Visited Coleman Thursday Evening

Presided Over By D.D.G.E.R. F. P. Walshe; Officials of Four Lodges Installed.

Upwards of 140 members of the Elk tribe, representing Granum, Macleod, Blairmore and Coleman lodges, gathered at Coleman Thursday evening for the annual district meeting, which was held following the regular session of the Coleman lodge at which a class of ten candidates were initiated. The degree work was in charge of the Blairmore team.

The district meeting was presided over by Bro. F. P. Walshe, District Deputy Grand. Exalted Ruler of Macleod, at this session Bro. Wilfrid Dutil, of Coleman, was nominated as the incoming district deputy. Reports from various lodges were received and were most encouraging.

Following the district meeting, the officers of the four lodges were installed by Bro. Walshe, assisted by Bro. Dan Boyle. Following the installation ceremony, the members were addressed briefly by Bro. Walshe, who expressed appreciation of the splendid work done by four lodges during the year and the hope that the good work will continue.

Outgoing exalted rulers were presented with jewels.

Refreshments served included "buffalo" sandwiches. Blairmore was represented by fifty members, Granum and Macleod by sixteen.—Blairmore Enterprise.

Miners Again Defeat Blairmore in Exhibition Game

Win 4-1 Decision; Heavy Thaw Affects Ice and Slows Down Game.

Miners again defeated Blairmore Bearcats in an exhibition game at the arena on Sunday afternoon by a 4-1 decision. Playing Blairmore on Friday evening Bearcats won a 2-1 decision.

A heavy thaw resulted in water seeping through the roof and softening the ice, which slowed up the game. Sunday again broke out between the two teams and fans were kept in a state of excitement throughout the game.

Miners were ahead 2-1 in the first period on goals by Field and Moxell, Hobson scored for the Cats. Moore sent the locals ahead 3-1 in the second and Kwanine finished the scoring in the third to give Coleman a decisive 4-1 decision.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Dear Sir: I would like to take this opportunity, through your paper, to thank the Junior Red Cross of Camrose school, the Red Shield, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion for their Christmas parcels. These parcels are always greatly appreciated. Pte. H. Mcullen, No. 13 Dist. Depot, C.A. (A).

First class attractions are scheduled for both the Palace and Cole's theatre this week-end. At the Palace, Bette Davis appears in another of her brilliant dramatic roles in "The Great Lie." Norma Shearer and Robert Taylor in the highly entertaining film "Escape" appearing at Cole's, Bellevue.

Members of the local miners' union are being assessed 50c each pay-day for the next two pays in support of the Kirkland Lake miners now on strike.

Want British Drive Through Libya Into French Tunisia

London.—A British drive straight through Libya into French Tunisia was demanded by well-posted military observer-writer as the admiralty announced that its submarines had sunk a large Axis transport "laden with troops" and probably destroyed a supply vessel in the Ionian sea.

The ships may have been headed for Libya from that arm of the Mediterranean between Italy and Greece, although the position of the attacks was not otherwise specified.

The admiralty said that although the supply ship, of medium size, was not seen to sink it was damaged so severely that its destruction "is considered probable."

As German General Erwin Rommel continued to withdraw his battered army toward El Agheila, Maj.-Gen. J. F. C. Fuller wrote in the Sunday Pictorial that a "mere defeat" of Rommel was not enough.

"At the very least, Tunisia and its great naval base at Bizerte must be occupied by us, and powerful airfields must be established there to command the west of the Mediterranean," this military expert wrote.

Gen. Fuller declared that British occupation of Tunisia, long coveted by Italy, would neutralize Italian sea and air power and enable convoys to sail on a direct route to Egypt and the Far East.

The British forces already hold airdromes in Libya with which Malta is within range of the best fighters, but an advance to Tripoli would provide airdromes less than 250 miles from the island fortress and enable fighters to defend Malta from the mainland, if Malta's own planes were forced to leave.

These sources said occupation of Tunisia would make reinforcement of Malta by direct route from Britain safer because planes from Tunisian bases could provide an "air umbrella" for supplies through dangerous Mediterranean waters. Tunisia is still loyal to Vichy.

Must Turn In Uniforms

Japanese Banned From Canadian Officers' Training Corps In B.C. Vancouver. Notices have been posted at the University of British Columbia asking Japanese students who were members of the Canadian officers' training corps to turn in their equipment and uniforms.

"It was thought advisable to take this action because of the present situation," President L. S. Klink said in announcing that decision to ban the Japanese was reached at a meeting of the committee on military education Jan. 2.

More than 70 Japanese members of the corps are affected by the ban.

Adhere To Charter

London.—The Danish council, representing the free Danes in Britain and Northern Ireland, voted adherence to the Atlantic charter and the principles of the united nations' pact "just as if that declaration had been signed by a free Danish government."

Britain Creating A Defence Corps For Protecting Airdromes

London.—Britain is creating a special defence corps for protection of her airdromes from "vertical envelopment" by air-borne troops such as won Crete for Germany and the troops will be commanded by Major-Gen. Claude Liarde, Colonial Secretary Lord Moyne announced.

The corps will operate under the Royal Air Force. Gen. Liarde, 60, has been in command of London's territorialists since 1938. He entered the artillery 45 years ago and in the first Great War earned the Distinguished Service Order and was five times cited in despatches.

An official spokesman said the corps will be under the control of the air council.

He said that while the army's responsibility for the ground defence as a whole would be maintained, the Royal Air Force "under military direction and as the agent for the army" would "undertake the entire local defence arrangements for airdromes."

A director-general of ground defence in the air ministry already has been appointed and will be given the title of commander, he said.

Loss of the airfield at Kuantan, on the east coast of Malaya touched off a flood of questions and Conservative, Liberal and Labor members served notice they wanted positive answers to questions in the next sessions of commons about measures to prevent the loss of other air bases.

A decision to create a force responsible for protection of landing fields was understood to have been reached at recent meetings of the war cabinet in response to growing alarm over repeated loss of air bases—in Norway, France, Greece, Crete and Malaya.

He said the new corps to defend R.A.F., naval and ministry of aircraft production airdromes would function only in the United Kingdom and would be called the "R.A.F. Regiment." He added it would be equipped with infantry arms, artillery and armored fighting vehicles.

Although the R.A.F. was responsible for maintenance, the defence corps would be under army direction, it was stated.

There was no hint of the size of the new airdrome defence group. No hint was given as to plans to protect airdromes of such outposts as Malaya.

Russia Sending Newly Trained Troops To The Central Front

London.—The B.B.C. quoted message from Kulibshev saying "Soviet troops are moving in an ever widening area toward Sevastopol and have forced the Germans to lift the siege at that great naval base to meet threats from the east, west and north of the peninsula."

Vast columns of newly-trained troops from Russia's almost limitless reserves were reported moving up to the central front, where the Soviet offensive was rolling on toward a great collision with German forces attempting to dig in on the Vyazma-Bryansk line 130 miles westward beyond Moscow and halfway back to Smolensk.

Information from reliable quarters here that the command of the Red army's centre had just begun to draw upon its manpower reserve, after more than a month of unending offensive action against the invader, was coupled with word that these fresh troops are to some degree equipped with captured Nazi arms.

"The Russians still have untouched reserves of manpower which they are tapping as fast as they can be armed," a reliable informant asserted. "The Red army now is on an offensive largely powered by troops trained in the six months since the war started—and this training is going on at a rate that more than makes up for battle losses."

Russian advances in frozen Karelia and in the Crimea also were reported, along with the steady Moscow front push which recaptured Meshchovsk, deep in the German centre.

Menchchovsk lies 130 miles south-east of Moscow and 40 miles short of the Vyazma-Bryansk line on which the invaders were expected to attempt to dig in for the winter.

Representing a 40-mile advance from Kaluga, it becomes the base of a Soviet spearhead at the southern tip of the Moscow region offensive arc—anchored in the north at Staritsa, on the upper Volga—which is menacing Moshalsk, German stronghold 57 miles west of the capital.

To Spend Billions

United States Budget Is The Largest In History

Washington.—Here are listed in round figures the billions the United States proposes to spend during the fiscal year beginning next July—the biggest-budget in the history of the world:

$56,000,000,000 for war.
$4,250,000,000 for normal government costs, relief, farm aid, etc.
$1,750,000,000 for interest on the public debt.

And here is the method of payment: $16,500,000,000 from existing tax laws. $7,000,000,000 in new general taxes. $2,000,000,000 in new social security taxes. $35,000,000,000 from treasury borrowing, plus additional borrowing by government non-budgetary agencies.

Spending will jump from the present $2,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 a month.

The First Great War spending peak—$18,500,000,000—will be passed this year and almost tripled during the next fiscal year.

The public debt, after borrowing will be $110,000,000,000.

Memorial At Vimy Ridge

Is Still Standing But Custodian Interred In France

Montreal.—George H. Stubbs, custodian of the Canadian war memorial at Vimy Ridge, is safe and well, but a prisoner of war in a camp at St. Denis, France, according to a letter received here by George S. Layton of the Canadian Legion war services.

He expressed appreciation for three Red Cross parcels he had received but said "we have had a rough time." Married, he lived in a house built by the Canadian government on Vimy Ridge.

"The memorial is still standing," Stubbs said in his letter, adding that "the upkeep has not been looked into so I expect to have quite a lot to do after this war."

He said there are 160 Canadians in the camp where he is interned.

IN SUPREME COMMAND

Appointed to command the U.S. fleet, Admiral Ernest J. King will have supreme direction of the U.S. forces in the Atlantic, Pacific and Asiatic waters. Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, announced the appointment on Dec. 20. Admiral King was formerly in command of the U.S. Atlantic fleet.

Agreements With Russia

Polish Prime Minister Says They Will Mean Action

Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, Polish prime minister and commander in chief, returned from a visit to Russia and declared his agreements with Joseph Stalin "proved we have come to definite conclusions which mean action."

He said Poland was entering a sphere of "real politics where only facts count."

"The agreements concluded with Russia are a beginning to that kind of real policy which I hope will have the best results for the whole world," Gen. Sikorski said.

Among the agreements concluded in Russia was one governing the constitution of a Polish army on Russian soil.

Red Armies Are Continuing Advance Along Russian Front

London.—The Red armies, thrusting forward along the whole length of the Russian front, have practically lifted the sieges of both Leningrad and Sevastopol and have converted both great garrisons into offensive forces threatening to smash the German north and south anchors.

At the centre the Soviet drive rolled on, the Red command announcing the recapture of half a dozen additional towns, presumably somewhere along the line of the continuing advance toward the Nazis' Vyazma-Bryansk defence front, and the Moscow radio jubilantly proclaimed:

"The enemy continues to retreat in many sectors of the front, losing a great number of men, tanks, trucks and guns. The initiative has been torn out of the enemy's hands. The German machine is broken."

The Soviet communiqué broadcast from Moscow announced that Red troops had swept into Masalsk, a town 47 miles west of Kaluga and about 30 miles short of the Vyazma-Bryansk line.

Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, Polish premier, who recently returned from an inspection of the battlefield, told a press conference he was convinced the Nazis would be unable to make a major stand short of Smolensk. The withdrawal to Smolensk, he added, would be tantamount to "complete defeat of the Germans."

nevertheless he remarked that the Nazis could be expected to reorganize and strain every resource in an effort to reclaim lost ground in the spring.

At one stage of the siege, the German high command asserted that Leningrad was "completely isolated" from the south and that the only outlet was the precarious passage across Lake Ladoga.

Advices reaching London reported that Red army storm troops now were battering the Germans in wave after wave in a sanguinary four-day-old battle at Povoenta, at the mouth of the Stalin canal.

While maps do not show Povoenta, presumably it was a village in the vicinity of Schlussemburg, 25 miles east of Leningrad, where the Neva river flows into the Stalin canal.

In the Crimea, Red army troops who stubbornly defended Russia's great Black sea naval base at Sevastopol for two months were reported sailing forth and crushing the Germans' own siege positions.

Despatches from Kulibshev, the alternate Soviet capital, said the Sevastopol garrison broke out and launched an offensive when the Germans withdrew some of their siege forces to combat the Russian counter-invasion from the Kerch peninsula.

Izvestia, Soviet government newspaper, reported that the Germans had massed seven divisions—perhaps 105,000 troops—on the approaches to Sevastopol in mid-December and threatened to break through the port's defences on Dec. 27.

Marines from the Soviet Black sea fleet drove them back, however, and the Germans were reported now facing the prospect of a complete withdrawal from the Crimea or being caught in a trap.

Sea-borne Russian troops were said to be landing at many points, east and north of Sevastopol, while the Sevastopol garrison itself drove the Germans back from the south.

Not Considering Change

Value Of Canadian Dollar Remains Fixed For The Present

Ottawa.—The official rate of exchange maintained by the foreign exchange control board here which sells United States dollars at a premium of 10 per cent. over Canadian dollars will be continued for the present, a financial spokesman said.

No consideration has been given to any change, he said when told of reports that discussions to bring the Canadian dollar up to a par with the United States dollar were in progress.

The board fixed the present rate shortly after it was set up early in the war and has maintained it ever since. The board provides the New York funds required by Canadians to meet obligations in the United States at the fixed rate.

From time to time there have been reports Washington and Ottawa were getting together to bring the two currencies to a parity, but the spokesman said it was not feasible at the present time.

Dutch Precautions

Scorched Earth Policy To Save Oil Wells From Falling To Japs

Sydney.—H. J. Van Mook, lieutenant-governor of the Netherlands East Indies, disclosed that the colony for a year had been preparing a scorched earth plan to prevent its oil fields and industries from falling into Japanese hands.

He said plants had been removed from threatened areas or preparations made to dismantle them while those which could not be moved would be destroyed.

Oil wells would be set on fire, he said, but he acknowledged the Japanese probably could bring them into production again within six months.

Will Launch Freighter

Vancouver.—The first ship to be launched from the Burrard Drydock Company's new shipyard here will slide down the ways January 27, when the 10,000-ton steel freighter Fort Churchill takes to the water. The vessel will be launched without ceremony. The freighter is named after the old Hudson's Bay fort.

Capture Freighter

New York.—Capture of the 6,285-ton German freighter Sturmfels by British warships in the Persian gulf was disclosed by marine circles who said the admiralty had renamed the vessel and was using her to carry supplies to Libya.

Nazi General Killed

London.—A German broadcast said Maj.-Gen. George Bruns, commander of the Brandenburg division, had been killed on the eastern front in December by a Russian mine.

NO DOUBT OF THE OUTCOME IN THESE VICTORY SMILES

Cheerful and confident about the progress of the war, Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt sat side by side in the White House at a joint press conference as living evidence of U.S.-British unity of purpose. Germany's defeat in Russia and the entry of the U.S. into the war marked a turning point in the conflict, Mr. Churchill said. He warned against false optimism, but said the war must end with the military defeat of Hitler's forces.

JAP BOMBERS KNEW THEIR TARGETS IN PEARL HARBOR RAID

Directed by what Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, described as the most effective fifth column work yet seen, Japanese bombers picked their targets with deadly accuracy when they staged their devastating surprise attack on the island of Oahu. In the upper picture is a U.S. pursuit plane, smashed like many others before it could get off the ground to meet the raiders. Below is the fire station at Hickam Field, showing fire trucks wrecked so they were useless for fighting the flames. Three ranking U.S. army and navy officers have been relieved of their Hawaiian commands until Washington learns why the island's defenders were unprepared for the attack.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Keep A Bright Outlook

"Turn your face to the sunshine and the shadows will fall behind you." This is a good thing to remember, for it will save many headaches. The mental attitude is all important in meeting the day's problems, which often fade into insignificance if tackled with a cheerful outlook and sunny disposition. The first month of the year is a good time to get in shape for the coming year's tasks.

Another phrase is, "If you want the rainbow, you must have the rain." Fanny Brice, popular singer for Victor records, sang this several years ago. You can't have pleasures without some compensating factors, in reverse. Life is made up of joys and sorrows, but the joys for the great majority exceed the sorrows, otherwise life would not be so pleasant. Keep ahead of the hard tasks; in fact tackle them first, then the rest will be easy. Self-discipline is as essential to right living as eating and drinking in moderation. The trouble is that many learn these lessons of life too late, otherwise a great more pleasure would be their's.

Selection of Municipal Candidates

Municipal elections in towns and villages will be held shortly. Some candidates stand for office through their own self-seeking, because they may have a pet peeve to ventilate. Some seek office because they like to be in the public eye. Some because they feel the urge to take a share of the responsibility of carrying on the business of their communities in true democratic style. Others stand for nomination at the request of friends who have confidence in their judgment and ability to give impartial study to local affairs, and it is this class of public servant who is in the majority, otherwise local government would not operate as smoothly as is the general rule.

Of course, there are varying degrees of enterprise in local councils, and the evidence of this is seen in public improvements, as a rule. Often one town will go ahead while its neighbor just stays in the rut. It is not because of lack of faithful service that this happens, but because the difference lies in one having vision and ambitions which are put into execution, while the other just stands pat and will not venture into undertakings for the advancement of the community.

Opportunities for Young Men to Serve

That is why it is always a good plan to encourage young men to take an interest in local affairs. They are more impulsive, it is true, but there usually is more of an air of progress inherent in them than in older men who though possessing mature judgment are liable to become too conservative in outlook, and view their course of life as being on the wane instead of spreading before them, with new heights to be conquered, new problems to be solved. Self-contentment from a business standpoint leads to stagnation. Younger men can give good service, and their energy and talents should be used in local affairs. It is well to remember these points in selecting candidates for our councils and school boards. Giving them a share of responsibility in local government makes them feel that they too, are a vital force, and gives them experience which in turn might be very advantageous in their respective communities.

Union or Party Government—Which?

We were mildly brought to task following our last issue in favoring the proposal that has gained widespread support throughout the Dominion for Union government and selective conscription. The party of the opposite view claimed that Premier Mackenzie King is being blamed unfairly for not forming a Union government, that he was elected by the majority, and that he is justified in not proclaiming conscription without allowing the people to vote on it. In view of the fact that it is the workers who have to bear the brunt of the war effort, both in men serving in the armed forces and those working in factories, besides the farmers who must produce all important food supplies, the view is held that owing to war conditions having changed a great deal since the Dominion election, that there is also a great change in public opinion. The country is not in a mood to engage in controversy when the vital issue is to help win the war in the least possible time. That undoubtedly is the desire of the great majority, and any measure which will help to promote greater effort and national unity instead of allowing party politics to interfere should be the prime factor in governing the war policy of Premier King and his cabinet.

If it is cold weather, we get snow or below zero temperatures. If we get a Chinook, then the wind is something that makes people wish they had the snow and colder weather. This is the wind belt of the south. Chicago has a reputation as a windy city. But it cannot equal Macleod. The wind won't let you ignore the fact, unpleasant though it be.

Instructions Issued Controlling Wartime Wages

The National War Labour Board has issued instructions to Canadian employers and employees in regard to the Wartime Wages and Cost of Living Bonus Order (P.C. 8353).

As detailed in the advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue, these instructions define what are national industries falling within the scope of the National War Labour Board at Ottawa, and those that come within the jurisdiction of provincial, or regional war labour boards.

Since wage control, together with price control, have become integral parts of Canada's wartime design for living, the National War Labour Board has considered it necessary to demarcate, for the purposes of the administration of the Order, the respective jurisdictions of the national and regional boards.

In general, national employees are designated as those whose operations—such as transportation and public utilities, etc.—are in inter-provincial in character, or those whose industrial activities—particularly mining and shipbuilding—are closely related to the national war effort as a whole.

Regional employees are considered those in which the operations of the industry or business is definitely within provincial or municipal boundaries. In this category fall most war production plants, all sections of retail and wholesale trade, and services, etc.

Employers and employees in the national field should address their communications to the secretary, the National War Labour Board, Ottawa, while those in the Regional category should address themselves to the Regional War Labour Board in care of their respective provincial governments.

Interpretative rulings on the Order have been issued in bulletin form, and these may be obtained on application to any regional war labour board.

Proper Question

Don Nelson, the defense-chief, went before the Appropriations Committee, where a Congressman asked him: "Are you a $1-a-year man?" Nelson replied: "No, I never received the dollar." The startled Congressman asked: "No? Then what do you live on?" —Leonard Lyons, New York Post.

One—or Many. There is in man's nature a secret inclination, and motion, towards love of others; which, if it be not spent upon some one, or a few, doth naturally spread itself towards many, and maketh men become humane and charitable.—Bacon.

Canada Expects Every Dollar To Do Its Duty

Are Your Dollars In The Fight?

All over Canada people who have been buying War Savings Certificates regularly are doubling their purchases. It takes extra effort to do this . . . more economizing . . . going without things.

We'll have to go without a lot of things if we don't win the war.

So among our necessities now we must put Weapons of War at the top of the list . . . Guns . . . and Tanks . . . and Ships . . . and Planes.

We made a good start to get the money required for the weapons that this community is buying. But we have only just started. Let's really get going. See that YOUR dollars do their duty.

Warrants and Badges Presented To Girl Guides

On Friday, Jan. 2, the First Coleman Girl Guide Company held its annual Christmas Party. This year, instead of exchanging gifts, each Guide presented her mother with a flower, and the Company made a donation to the Queen's fund of $2.00.

It was not our usual badge presentation—that takes place in June—but eight of the girls were presented with their Second Class badge, namely: Isabel Ewing, Joyce McMullen, Jennie Andreshak, Johanna Handzel, Elra Jones, Edna Lier, Cecelia McEwen and Lenore Dafeo.

Also, during the evening, the following recruits were enrolled: Joanna Beesley, Patricia McIntyre, Rose Kooma, Annie Biesch, Clotilda McIntyre, Joan McIntock and Betty Knowles.

Just before the girls were dismissed from "Horseshoe", is Joyce Emmerson was presented with her warrant as Lieutenant of the First Co., and Mrs. F. Emery's warrant, as Tawny Owl of the Second Brownie Pack was recorded.

Mrs. J. J. McIntyre, on behalf of the Division Association, then presented Miss W. A. Dunlop with a warrant from Headquarters appointing her as Divisional Commissioner for the Crows Nest Pass Division of the Canadian Girl Guides.

The program for the evening was in the hands of a Committee of four—composed of girls who wish to earn their Entertainer's badge. The Red Cross Membership Card was placed on the Notice Board—the Company having decided to take out the membership from the proceeds of the library fund.

On Monday night we started the new term by entering the credits earned during the last two months on the Progress chart. We hope to have another Guide with us soon, and in this way we will be able to cover a great deal more of the work than we have done in the last few months.

We are having a little trouble getting a Brown Owl for the First Brownie Pack, and meetings are somewhat irregular just now, but we hope to have this adjusted shortly.

ALBERTA PEOPLE DEMAND ACTION TOWARDS WINNING WAR

Public opinion demands that not only the Federal government, but provincial governments as well should devote their time towards helping promote an all-out war effort. Everything regarding Federal or provincial domestic problems depends on winning the war—if we lose then we will have our problems settled—but not by ourselves.

To talk of monetary reform and to campaign for visionary schemes with rainbow colors and just as chimerical is nonsensical under present conditions—in fact at any time, for most of them are just dreams of imagination having nothing substantial as a basis on which to work.

So far there has been little evidence that Alberta's government is giving a leg to the Federal government; its principal activity since the war started has been in organizing its monetary reform party, the purpose being to enhance its own political fortunes.

The lack of action is condemned by those who insist that our one and only concern for the next two or three years is the united support and all-out effort of all the people to win the war.—H.T.H.

OTTAWA

Churchill's Visit Intensified War Effort

There is every intimation along Parliament Hill that the series of conferences held in Washington and Ottawa, which included the visit of Prime Minister Winston Churchill to both capitals, will result in not only co-ordinating the war efforts of all the Allies but it will greatly intensify the nature and extent of Canada's contribution to the struggle. Although several important conferences have already been held by the leaders, yet these are likely to be merely forerunners of a larger and broader gathering, with the certainty that in any total war effort by the Allies Canada will make a maximum contribution in complete accordance with the tasks assigned to this country in the military and economic scheme of things.

Free French and Those Islands. It seems to be the impression in well-informed circles that the Free French forces' action in seizing the Islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon has received much more stress or much more publicity than this action deserves. In other words, its importance has been greatly exaggerated far beyond its rightful place in the world of diplomacy. It may have caused some embarrassment in official quarters in Ottawa, but under no circumstances did it create the excitement or tension that was attributed to it. Of course, these islands are of tremendous strategic value both to the United States and Canada. However, there is no inclination to doubt that a peaceful and satisfactory settlement will be made with the Vichy Government about their future control or sovereignty, particularly for the duration of the war.

Oil Rationing Policy Unavoidable. In view of the continuous increase of the oil requirements of Canada's war undertakings and the amount of supplies available or to be available in future, it appears certain in the capital that oil rationing on a full scale will come into force as originally planned by the authorities. Canada produces only about 15 per cent of its oil requirements, and of the amount imported, 74 per cent is brought in by tanker, 22 per cent by pipeline and 4 per cent by railroads. Moreover, war needs have increased requirements from about 45,000,000 barrels in a normal year to present demands for about 63,000,000 barrels a year.

World Against Underworld. It may not be realized by the man-in-the-street in Canada but an experienced observer along Parliament Hill is in a position to know that the leaders of this nation are living through days and nights of untold and unimaginable events, with the strong probability that these passing events will not be known until the war and its stories have become nothing more than pages of history that will record in dried ink how the Allies of the British Commonwealth of Nations, United States, Russia, China, and the others gained a complete victory over the Axis. It means that well-informed circles in the capital are now absolutely certain about the final outcome of this total war. Indeed, it is held in the capital that this is really a war between the world and the underworld, between men and devils, and between the forces of civilization and barbarism. There is a quiet feeling of confidence and there are three main reasons for this attitude, namely the staggering superiority of resources possessed by the Allies over those of the Axis, including manpower, territory, raw materials, etc., the superiority of industrial power of the Allies, and certain military events of recent weeks that emphasized that the night of the enemies has been exaggerated.

Cost of Loan Campaigns. The Government has decided to launch another big Victory Loan campaign, and it is believed that it will be carried out along much the same lines as the other three campaigns of this war which were quite successful. The first loan campaign in January, 1940, for $250,000,000 cost the Government in expenses about $2,170,920; the second loan campaign for $324,945,700 in September 1940, cost about $2,735,645; the third campaign incurred expenses of $5,786,170 in 1941 for the objective of $336,820,250.

Canada's Ship Production Rising. Though it may seem to be sensational, yet it is known in Ottawa that Canada's shipbuilding production is high because this country will soon be producing as many ships as Great Britain which has been turning out ships for years, whereas in 1939, Canada was producing almost no ships at all.

Examination of War Contracts. In Coming Session. There will be the fullest possible opportunity afforded to every member to discuss the reports, recommendations, and the subject of economy in war expenditures when a new committee is established next session. This has become known on Parliament Hill and it has brought a favorable reaction.

"Save Words-Save Paper"—Government Services Should Set Example

These are the words printed on an envelope sent out by a branch of government service. The envelope contained three foolscap pages of typewritten material for which free publication was requested. As this was impossible, the whole thing went to the waste-paper box. The public are asked to salvage many materials, including paper. Yet in branches of government service there is an appalling waste of material and labor. The waste should be stopped, particularly the time of those who concoct long epistles for junior clerks and stenographers to waste their time in typing and sending to people who haven't time to read most of it. The above is just one instance of hundreds. Some vigorous checking up is due right in government service.

THOUGHT OF A VOLUNTEER

Why didn't I wait to be drafted And be led to the train by a band, Why didn't I wait for the banquet? Oh, why did I hold up my hand? For nobody gave me a banquet, And nobody said a kind word. The grind of the wheels of the engine Were the only ones I ever heard. On to the camp I was hustled, To be trained for a half a year. In the shuffle quite forgotten I was only a volunteer. We gave the others our billets, As we toasted alive in tour tents. We cleaned up a dozen parade grounds, For the fellows who were only sent. Then came the trainee army, Then it was all made clear: The Glory goes to the trainee And the work to the Volunteer. I waded in mud in the summer, And froze in the winter cold; I walked my best in the moonlight In this army I'm growing old. I dreamed of the times that were coming, When over the top we would go; While the fellows back home were laughing. At what fools we were to go, I dreamed of the far off dangers, Of the bloody fields of hate; I went over the top; by a bullet was stopped, Then I knocked on the pearly gate. I heard St. Peter saying, We have no room for you here We reserve this for the trainee army. Hell was made for the Volunteer. Maybe someday in the future, When my boy sits on my knee, And asks what I did in the conflict, His eager eyes looking at me, I'll have to look back at him blushing. To the eyes that so trustingly peer; I'll tell him I missed being drafted, I was "only" a volunteer.

WARTIME WAGE CONTROL

Instructions to Canadian Employers and Employees concerning the Wartime Wages and Cost of Living Bonus Order, P.C. 8253.

THIS Order of the Dominion Government—which under the War Measures Act stabilizes wage rates and requires employers to pay a cost of living bonus—provided for the establishment of National and Regional War Labour Boards to administer the Government's policy.

National Employers

Communications from employers and employees in the following employments should be addressed to the Secretary, National War Labour Board, Ottawa:

- (1) the operation of lines of steam or other ships, railways, canals or telegraphs, including all services ancillary thereto, connecting any province with any other or others of the provinces or extending beyond the limits of the province;
- (2) the operation of any system of air, bus or truck transportation connecting any province with any other or others of the provinces or extending beyond the limits of the province;
- (3) the operation of any electrical power or transmission works connecting any province with any other or others of the provinces or extending beyond the limits of any province, or serving two or more provinces;
- (4) mining;
- (5) the operation of any shipyard;
- (6) all undertakings located in the Yukon or Northwest Territories.

Regional Employers

Employers and employees in employments other than those above designated should address their communications to the Regional War Labour Board in care of their respective provincial governments.

The Order provides that no increase or decrease in a basic scale of wage rates may be made by any employer. Violations of this Order are subject to penalties.

Extracts from the Order and the Board's Interpretative Rulings are given in the National War Labour Board's Bulletin No. 1, which may be obtained on application to any Regional War Labour Board.

BRITISH WORKERS PRESENT THEIR FIRST TANK FOR RUSSIA TO SOVIET AMBASSADOR

British factory workers crowded round a big tank named "Stalin" and plastered with "V for Victory" messages to listen to the thanks of M. Maisky, Soviet Ambassador to Britain, for this symbol of Britain's aid to his country. The tank was but a symbol of this ever-increasing aid to Britain's gallant ally; and the ceremony marked the opening of "Tanks for Russia" week, during which every tank coming from British factories was sent to Russia. The week's output set up a British record.

Make Barrage Balloons

British Women Work in Factory Where No Men Allowed

No men allowed in this war factory somewhere in Wales. Only women and a few made-in-America sewing machines are employed. Their products are the barrage balloons guarding English cities and port towns, made with nimble, feminine hands.

A typical balloon is made of panels 440 meters wide, of aluminum coated cloth glued together at the edges, reinforced with stitching, then more glue and tape inside as well as out. Two miles of tape are used in just one balloon and there are over 500 small accessories that make up the fins, the rudder, the moorings and rigging.

The balloons over London look light and free, but I saw 12 people struggling to carry a 600-pound deflated bag.

A balloon contains an animal-like diaphragm. In the factory they call it a balloon, but in all reality it is a diaphragm. The lighter-than-air gas goes into the upper compartment and the air underneath. The diaphragm, like ours, moves up and down with the expansion and contraction of the gas inside.

The fin on a Hyde Park balloon looks absurdly small, but one can stand in one just like it with lots of overhead room to spare.

Draftswomen mark out and cut the material into intricate patterns and girls scrape the aluminum off the edge in preparation for glueing. The sewing is done with American machines, and the balloon parts go on to the pasting room.

It's not like cutting paper dolls. Theirs is accurate work, accurate to a small fraction of a millimeter. Government inspectors, in noticeable white frocks, work continually with their gauges checking and rechecking to see that no errors are made.

Riding A Moose

Seasoned Algonia Guide Says It Is A Dangerous Practice

Ever ride a moose? Barbark on a bull moose, king of the forests?

Oscar Boyer of Pangis has to try it on dry land although it can be done with a degree of safety when the animal is in the water.

Oscar, who is one of the best known guides in Algonia and is skilled in forest lore, is usually regarded as the only man in Canada to have ventured on a moose's back. Here's what he says about his adventure:

"I had an idea ever since I was 15 that if people could ride horses and other animals I could ride an Algonia moose. I tried it out some what later in life. There was a moose swimming. I got on its back alright. I soon learned to get into such a position that its hooves would not hit me as it swam but I made the mistake of hanging on once it hit the shore. A moose can go like the wind. I hung on for about 15 minutes when the brush and overhanging branches of trees through which the moose hurried itself swept me right off its back. Never hang on to a moose when it hits dry land. It's courting suicide."

Saved By His Hair

Wild Tribesmen Of Luzon Knew Airman Was Not A Jap

One American pilot who baled out of his plane over the wild mountains of Central Luzon, inhabited by fierce Kalanga tribesmen, literally escaped death by a hair—or rather a head of hair.

Floating to earth the pilot saw a whole village of Kalanga tribesmen, who seldom are able to distinguish among foreigners, shouting and waving their spears and bolos.

The pilot didn't speak the dialect. Besides, he knew there wouldn't be much chance for conversation, since Japanese air bombs already had killed several Kalangas.

But as he hit the ground the Kalangas lowered their spears. This intruder definitely was not a Japanese—he had a shock of flaming red hair.

PLANES of THE RCAF and how to spot them

DEFINITELY in the class of the "heavies" is the Armstrong-Whitley bomber and despite its unorthodox appearance is for its purpose a most efficient and successful aircraft.

It has taken a large and important part in the raiding into enemy territory ever since the war started. Primarily it is used for night operations owing to its relatively low speed, and its high load capacity of almost two tons.

Whitley's wing span is almost 85 feet, with an overall length of 70 feet. It is of all-metal construction, with retractable landing gear, and powered with two Rolls-Royce Merlin liquid-cooled engines of 1,030 h.p. each, giving a top speed of 245 m.p.h., with a range of 1,250 miles at cruising speed of 180 miles per hour. It is easily distinguished by the long box-like shape of the fuselage and the twin fins and rudders. Machine-guns are mounted in power-operated turrets in both the nose and tail. The normal crew consists of five—two pilots, navigator and bomb-aimer, a rear gunner and radio operator.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JOHN THE BAPTIST AND JESUS

Golden text: Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased. Luke 3:22.

Lesson: Matthew 3:1-17; Mark 1:1-11; Luke 3:1-22.

Devotional reading: Psalm 40:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

John's Testimony concerning Jesus. Luke 3:15-17. The coming of the Messiah was expected at this time, and the people began to wonder whether or not John might be he. But John told them that while he baptized them with water, there was One coming. One far mightier than he, the thought of whose shoe he himself was not worthy to untie. John had spoken to the people about their sins in tones of regal authority, but as he compares himself with the coming One he speaks with the deepest humility. "He shall baptize you in the Holy Spirit and in fire." "John says in effect: I can bring you to repentance but no farther. My baptism gives no grace. His baptism will give you new spiritual life, inward sanctification, holy fervor and zeal in God's service" (Dummelow).

"Take a modern Jew who has been converted into the Christian faith and you will find that one of the favorite phrases by which he tries to give expression to his experience is this, 'I feel a burning within me.' What does he mean? He means that the sense of discipline to the law has become changed into a consciousness of warm discipleship to a Person. He was baptized with water, now he is baptized with fire" (J. H. Jowett).

John's Baptism of Jesus, Luke 3:21, 22. Matthew and Mark (Mt. 3:13; Mark 1:9) inform us that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan, and Matthew reports the conversation between Jesus and John in which John humbly exclaimed, "I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?" and Jesus answered: "Suffer it now; for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness." All evangelists mention the rending of heaven, the descent of the Spirit as a dove, and the utterance of the words, "Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased." Luke tells us that it was as Jesus was praying that these things happened. The symbolism of the descending dove and heavenly voice tells us that Jesus was God's spirit resting upon Jesus and he became aware of a special anointing for his task. "After a long period of loyalty in obscure and monotonous toils, there came this outpouring of this Divine Spirit—the uprising in his soul of a divine power which augmented his natural energies."

Astrologers See The Finish Of Hitler In 1942

Astrologers who cull the heavens for signs of the future are agreed that the moon, Jupiter, Venus, Neptune, Mars and the rest are going to put the hex on Hitler, Hirohito & Company in 1942.

Old Moore's Almanack, established in 1897, reports for 1942: "Clearly the outlook for Hitler is bad."

"He has his progressed ascendant opposing Neptune and Saturn, and the Neptune transit near about this point in May, 1942. Furthermore, the next conjunction of Saturn and Mars—in February, 1942—falls out of the ascendant of the foundation map of the Third Reich."

Old Moore's sums this up in plain language: "Somewhere between the earliest and latest of these dates first Hitler, and then Nazism, will crash."

The "culminating of Jupiter in Japan" during February will give Premier Hideki Tojo's boys trouble, and peace will come early in the summer, the almanack adds.

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

NATIONAL HEALTH EDUCATION

In an article in the United Church Observer, Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada, has called upon the federal government to assume leadership in a national health education campaign, to call regular conferences with the provinces, and to plan carefully specific health programs on a national scale.

Dr. Bates, in his article, argues that neglect of the problem of national health costs the Dominion government nothing. He points out that costs of sickness are borne by the provinces, not by the Federal government. He states that Ottawa would be swifter to act if the provinces dumped the cost of sickness on to the federal government to pay. But provincial institutions, hospitals, sanatoria, etc., for the care of the sick are kept up by provincial governments.

"The present system under which we have nine different health plans, with little or no attempt to deal with any health program on a national scale, is far from satisfactory," he points out.

One province, for instance, has achieved something remarkable in the setting up of a physical fitness program for youth. But little is done in the other provinces along this line. One province has passed a law making it compulsory to pasteurize all milk. But nothing happens in the other provinces, where unsafe milk continues to be sold. The infant and maternal mortality rate in some Canadian provinces is good. In others it is disgraceful. Some Canadian cities have managed completely to eliminate diphtheria. But in other centres this dread disease continues to take its toll in children's lives.

"In our democratic system, the public has in their power the ability to see that the ideal of national health is achieved," Dr. Bates said. "Public opinion can be roused. Public opinion can be changed. Public opinion can determine the policy of a government. The time to act for a national health program is now."

Is Your Liver Poisoning You?

Are you sick and tired of every morning—always constipated—can't eat without pain and distress? Your liver is poisoning your system—permanent ill health may be the result!

Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands. If unhealthy, your body lacks this energy and becomes constipated—routinely vomits, disappears. Again your liver pours out bile to digest food, get rid of waste and allow proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order proper digestion and nourishment stop—you're poisoned with the waste that decomposes in your intestines. Nervous troubles and rheumatic pains arise from this poison. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. The whole system is affected and you feel "rotten," headache, backache, dizzy, tired out—a ready prey for sickness and disease.

Thousands of people are never sick, and have won prompt relief from these miseries with "Improved Fruit-a-lives Liver Tablets." The liver is toned up, the other organs function normally and lasting good health results. Today "Improved Fruit-a-lives" are Canada's largest selling liver tablets. They must be good. Try them yourself NOW. Let "Fruit-a-lives" put you back on the road to lasting health—like a new person. 25c, 50c.

"I'll soon be, Always Fine Now"

Since I was twelve I've suffered from constipation and indigestion. I started taking "Fruit-a-lives" and I can truly say they gave me wonderful relief. Every one should try them. I've never been sick for years.

Mr. Florence Williamson, Montreal, Que.

"Run Down For Years, Has Perfect Health"

I was badly run down and terribly nervous. My digestion was poor and I was always constipated. "Fruit-a-lives" soon made me better and there is nothing like it for making you well and giving you good health. "Fruit-a-lives" must be good.

What has gone before: Now that gold has been discovered in paying quantities on the Randolph plantation, Ranny and Dick are concerned because they fear Tamar and her father will not get their proper share under the terms of the contract with Major Towne. They plan to have the contract broken. Ranny and Dick both seem to be in love with Tamar and want to help her. Tamar resents the activity of Ranny, still considering him in the light of a young boy playmate. On the way to a night club, Tamar's mind suddenly reverts to Christopher Sande, the newcomer in the community.

CHAPTER IV.

Tamar knew that Ransome Todd was having a miserable evening. As it lengthened, she sparkled more. Dick Sheridan studied her curiously across the table.

Selby, his sister, seemed ill at ease, as though she knew that something was wrong, but could not diagnose it. Since it was her escort at whom most of Tamar's remarks seemed directed, she pondered it quietly.

Tamar looked about the room, remembering that it had been only a year ago that she and Ran had spent the summer having fun in just such a place as the Roostan. The orchestra began playing "Only Forever" and Tamar suddenly felt like crying. "I've always prided myself upon being a lady, she told herself severely, and I slapped Ranny's face this afternoon. He had it coming to him, an inner voice retorted. Didn't he kiss you? Why shouldn't Ransome Todd kiss you? I've known him for 20 years. And played together most of them. Yes, but he called Dad a fool. Are you certain that he wasn't right? She felt the battle going on within her. Was Ranny right? Weren't they a bit hasty in grabbing up the Major's offer to lease the Cricket Hill Mine?

"It would be lots of fun, wouldn't it, Tamar?" Selby asked, touching her hand.

"Oh, yes, of course!" Tamar agreed hastily.

"What time can you go?" Tamar looked at them helplessly. "Let's arrange that later; how about this dance, Richard?"

She asked into his shoulder a moment later. "I hadn't heard a word. What does Selby have planned?"

Dick answered her quietly: "I knew that you were not listening. Selby wants the four of us to go to Churchill Downs next week. Want to go?"

"I'm not sure, Dick. Let's wait and see. The rest of you can go on though."

Dick Sheridan was blessed with to lease the mine for a certain amount. He couldn't go back on his word."

"That's all very true, Tamar. No Randolph would ever go back on his word, whether it was written or spoken. Your father wasn't at all in favor of the change ethically."

"And what about Major Towne?" "They have gentlemen in the East, Tamar. And the old Major is so delighted with his strike that he was in a very pleasant mood. The contracts have not been signed yet, but they should be tomorrow."

Just then Selby and Ransome returned to the table.

Ransome carefully seated Selby. He said something to her in a low tone, and Tamar avoided his eyes.

How could she let him keep on thinking she was angry about this afternoon? She wanted to hear more from Dick, but did not like to discuss it before these two.

Ransome did not take his seat. He came on around the table. "May I have this dance, Miss Randolph?" he asked with his best dancing-school manners.

She rose slowly from her chair. Ran held out his arms, and they were gliding down the floor.

He held her carefully, stiffly, and they danced the length of the floor silently. With a sigh Tamar shrugged herself deeper into his arms. She smiled up at him, dazlingly. "You don't want me to break you?"

He grinned boyishly, and pressed her closer. "Tam," he whispered.

He wondered fiercely what had made this sudden change in her, and thought that Dick must have told her about the contracts. He shrugged his shoulders. Women were the most unpredictable creatures living.

Women and horses are a lot alike. Have to keep handling them with the greatest of care. He thought of Tahlanekka II, and wondered idly why the roan should obtrude himself in his thoughts just at that moment.

I struck him with the crop, he told himself. And threw it away.

"Ran, I'm sorry about this afternoon," Tamar's soft voice was whispering so low that he had to bend his head to hear.

"I'm sorry that I'm not very tactful, Tam. I'm not sorry I kissed you though. He thought to himself. For if I'd not kissed you, I probably wouldn't know yet that I'm in love with you. And while it's been a miserable feeling so far, maybe it won't always be.

"Let's forget about this afternoon. Look at that moonlight, Tam." They were dancing straight toward the open door. It hadn't been 10 minutes before that she squelched Dick's romantic words.

"I'd like to dance you straight down that white path to the river," Tamar's laughter pealed out. Ransome scowled. "I could shake you, Tam, for that."

"Oh, don't take it that way, Ranny. Those were almost Dick's identical words."

Ranny's scowl deepened. He felt like growling. He supposed that to Tam he seemed the most unromantic figure in the country. That's because they had played together so much. Would Tam ever be able to forget their companionship bias? He didn't want to be a companion to her now.

He danced her straight through the open door. On the verandah he dropped his arm and tucked her hand through it.

"You can see that, although Dick and I might talk the same language, we're not really alike, Tamar."

"No," she said, "you're not really alike." She trembled and Ranny's arm slip about her shoulder.

"I have something I want to ask you," he said with determination, pausing at the river's edge.

His Favorite Hymn

Honors Memory Of Soldier At Y.M.C.A. Hut In Scotland

A young British soldier among the many who met a hero's death on the beach of Dunkirk has his memory kept green at a Y.M.C.A. hut in Scotland, in whose activities he participated enthusiastically while stationed nearby. All functions of that hut close with the singing of two verses of "Abide With Me," the youth's favorite hymn.

The explanation of the custom goes back to a letter received by the supervisor of the hut from the soldier, in which he asked those at the hut, at a certain hour and day, to "sing my old favorite 'Abide With Me'." I'll be thinking of you while you're doing it." The day and time he had specified came and the hymn was sung, and across the North Sea at that hour British troops were fighting and dying and winning immortal glory at Dunkirk. He was one of those who never left that beach.

Corn Driers In Manitoba

Now Growing Corn On Large Scale In Manitoba

In 1936 it was estimated that Manitoba's production of shelled corn was 25,000 bushels. In 1940 it was 1½ million bushels. With this rapid increase in corn production, it became evident that there was a lack of proper equipment for handling it, particularly with respect to drying. Some of the corn was partially dried before shipping, but the bulk of it carried a high moisture content, and consequently required to be dried before being shipped, states W. J. Breakey, Dominion Experimental Station, Morden, Man.

In 1937 the first large commercial seed corn drier was built south of Winkler, Manitoba. This was the largest and most up-to-date drier operating in Canada. It was such a success that for the two following years it was necessary to enlarge it in order to meet the growing needs of the seed corn business. Soon smaller driers of similar type began to appear on farms throughout the corn area.

In 1940 the first large commercial drier was built by a line elevator company. The drier was remodelled and enlarged in 1941. During the summer of 1941 this same company built two more driers in two other towns, in order to meet the needs of the two districts. Another line elevator company also erected a large drier within the corn area.

The Dominion Experimental Station, Morden, recognizing the corn drying problems, built a small four-bin Wisconsin type of drier. The loading capacity of this drier is 550 bushels. It operated effectively in the fall of 1941 and definite projects relative to corn drying problems will be carried on in 1942.

At the present time there are fourteen driers operating throughout the corn growing area in Manitoba. These include four large commercial driers, with a loading capacity of from 1,450 to 2,000 bushels each, three large driers for seed drying, and seven smaller types drying or jointly owned by growers.

The large driers, operating at full capacity of around 1,500 bushels, can reduce the moisture content from 30 to 13½ per cent, in approximately 48 hours. Each drier is capable of handling around 125,000 to 150,000 bushels of corn per season. The cost of the driers vary from $11,000 to $15,000 with additional cost to supply outside crib storage. Fuel is not a factor of much concern as it consists mostly of dry corn cobs. The driers operate 24 hours a day and require four to six men to do the necessary work.

The shellers operating in these driers have a capacity of around 200 bushels per hour. The price paid in the fall of 1941 for corn, which carried 30 per cent moisture, was from 50 cents to 55 cents per bushel, while that for corn, carrying only 20 per cent moisture on the cob, was from 63 cents to 65 cents per bushel.

Throughout the corn growing area much of the wheat acreage is being sown to corn. Now that elevator companies are building corn driers, other essential corn machinery, such as corn pickers and corn cleaning plants, is being added to the corn grower's equipment.

Canadian Army

Expected To Be Issued With A Smart New Uniform

Some time in 1942 the Canadian army will blossom forth in a smart new uniform if plans now under consideration receive official approval of defence authorities.

The new outfit, it is understood, will not replace the battle dress which many have found somewhat drab and unattractive in appearance.

It will be a walking out or parade dress which will be issued to the troops in addition to the battle dress.

Sample suits of the new uniform have been made up and are said to be decidedly neat and smart in cut and general appearance.

The uniform is of khaki but of a somewhat finer weave than the cloth used in the battle dress and it is cut on snug lines, very much on the style of the blue uniform worn by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The snug-fitting tunic has a cloth belt like those worn by army officers on the old-style service dress tunics. It has a turn down collar which displays a soft khaki shirt and khaki tie.

The khaki wedge cap will be worn with it and off duty soldiers may wear the colored regimental wedge caps authorized some time ago and which they may purchase at their own expense.

Bachelors Buy More Clothes

Are Heaviest Users Of Coupons Under British Rationing Scheme

Bachelors are the heaviest users of clothing coupons under the British rationing scheme, with unmarried women running them a close second. From returns issued by the Board of Trade for the first 10 weeks under the rationing plan it was found that bachelors used 30 coupons and unmarried women 29.

The survey shows that a majority of the people bought sensibly, and the idea that women had borrowed coupons from men has been proved wrong, as well as the idea that parents spent their coupons on their children.

Eleven per cent of the men and six per cent of the women—mostly elderly—spent no coupons.

Men of 18 years and over spent 27 coupons and women of the same age 26.

Boys and girls between 14 and 17 years spent 27 and 25, respectively; married men and women 26 and 24, respectively.

Nazi Ordered Statue To Memory Of Nurse Cavell Destroyed

The vindictiveness of the Nazi mind has been laid bare many times since the second World War began. But it remained for the German military authorities at Paris to expose a spiteful childishness when they ordered the demolition of the statue to the memory of Nurse Edith Cavell, standing in the garden of the Tulleries.

Though the Nazis can destroy the memorial of Nurse Cavell as easily as their predecessors killed her body, the vandalism only gives a new glow to the memory of her devotion and heroism.—Detroit Free Press.

HOME SERVICE

SLIP COVER RENEWS OLD-LOOKING CHAIR

Planned And Cut Right On Chair

Yes, chairs get their faces lifted, too! The "new treatment?" A brand-new upholstery-style slip cover you can make yourself—fitting the fabric right to the chair and slipping off what you don't need.

A sturdy cotton twill, in an attractive geometric pattern as in our picture, gives a trim upholstery effect.

To start, remove the chair cushions and pin fabric to top of chair. Smooth and trim down inside back and seat, allowing four inches for tuck-in between, and trim around seat to 1½ inches for seams.

Now cover the rest of the chair in just the same way—a section at a time—arms, front, sides, back and cushion.

The next step is to pin pieces together, take out pins that hold fabric to chair, and remove the pinned-up cover to waste. A "fitting"—and you run it off on the machine!

Our 32-page booklet describes in detail, with diagrams, each step of making a slip cover the pin-on way—for chair or sofa. Tells how to finish, make plaquettes and trim; also how to fit auto seats, unusually shaped chairs. Suggests colors, fabric to harmonize with your room.
